CARES PhD Cancer Research School 2023

After a successful first round of CARES, giving us 29 alumni, we now welcome you to apply for a new round of our PhD Cancer Research School. This is an interactive and interdisciplinary research school covering state-of-the-art methodology and fostering skilled cancer research fellows. CARES is funded by the Swedish Cancer Society. The research school comprises 5 on-line courses (1.5 hp each) covering both clinical and preclinical research, an exchange program and retreats.

An admissions committee will review all applications. Applicants should have at least two years remaining of their PhD studies.
